The New Orleans Bee.

NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1854.

THE DAILY BEE.

[Columns of text with various articles and advertisements.

COMMERCIAL.

[Columns of text with commercial information.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

[Columns of text with public notices.

WANTS, LOST ETC.

[Columns of text with personal notices.

The layout is typical of 19th-century newspapers, with columns containing text and advertisements arranged in a grid.