A PIERCE FIGHT BOUTH OF THE RAFFAHAN-MOCK.

Headquarter's Army of the Potomac.—Aug.

Bulurd's cavairy, artillery, and a supporting infanity force, yesterday eroseed the Kappahannock at the Railross distaion; thence, with his cavairy and artillery, he proceeded toward Colpepper, driving Staart's cavairy before him When near Culpepper, General Bulord escountered a large rebel force of infantry and artillery, and a fierce fight neased, lasting until dark, when he withdrew to a strong position east of Brandy Sation. The loss on both sides was consentration of Lee's forces near Colpepper, and indicates that his besiquarters are at Sievenburg, four miles coultessed of Culpepper.

NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 11, 1863.

A Wire on a Misker.—Mr. Ricke, a besiness man of Binghamon, New York, went to Uttea on Tuesday to be married. All the arrangements were completed and the unpital ceremony was about to be performed, the officiating drivine was in his robes, and the bride to be in hers, when, lot an unwalcome messenger appeared with the notification that he, the said Ricke, had a few hours before been drafter at Binghamton. The groom turned pale, and the bride pales. She appeared for a moment—just a moment—set all not to reab to his arms, like a heroine of the Grecian mould, and implore him to forasks all and resh to the rescue of his bleeding country—but she didn't.

The groom pundered for a brid space upon his early in the clauser of mucketry, the clash of canonary and the welkingshi and shouts of victory rang upon his early his far, beamed out a rapid succession of heroic impulies, he evened decided to renounce the bridat carch for the enangoined bed of the blazing battle-field—but he warn't.

A furtive glance at futurity revealed a long line of exitence perilled Ricksee whom he alone could reacce from nonethy—he resolved to open his purse, fork over $100 and sead it off in hot haste—and he did it. Won't that be a dramatic story for Mr. and Mrs. Ricks to tell to the little Ricksee in the Particulation of the purpose here the particulation of the protection of the part to the Particulation of th

ENORMOUS FEAUDS.—A dispatch from Harrisburg to the Pairadelphis Inquirer, dated the 30th of Jaly, says: "Considerable excitement has been created here by the discovery of enormous frauds upon the Government during the recest army movements in this region consequent upon the rebel raid. The amounts are stated at millions of dollars. A number of prominent State politicians have been placed under arrest, and the eabject will receive the most searching investigation by the War Department. The most corrupt practices have prevailed in horse-contracts and in clothing and subsistence supplies. They throw the "shoddy" operators at Harrisburg, in the Summer of 1861, entirely in the shade. Many of the same parties are implicated, and the gange who have in fested the State capital in the Winter have respect a rich Summer darvest." MILITARY OBITUARY.-At one of the static military delivary.—At one of the stations on the Aquals road, where the subsistence was received/ and delivered to the Army of the Potomat, a very faithful man was fatally injured and died shortly after. The commissary wrote the following spithuph, which marks the spot where he is buried:

Here lies the body of Michael Farrel,
Who lost his life in rolling a barrel;
Life is sweet, but he gave up his existence;
In furnishing the army with needful subsistence.
