NEW ORLEANS.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1837.

On our return to the ship, we were informed that Major Brown was sick, and that we were to proceed to Brussels, where we should be conveyed by the Prince of Orange to Paris, and then to the seat of the convention. The latter part of the journey was by water, the coast of the Rhine being too rough for the navigation of the Rhine. We arrived at Brighton on the 20th of February, and on the 21st of February, we embarked for Paris, where we arrived on the 22nd of February.
