WINNING STREAK WELL SUSTAINED

New Orleans won one of the prettiest games of the season yesterday from Chattanooga by a score of 1 to 0.

With the United States at war, and conscription certain to affect many of the ball players, the pressure of a drill master in every major league camp may prove the salvation of our league ball this year.

While the military drills that have been taught American League ball players are by no means as thorough as instructions in warfare at concentration camps, many of the fundamentals can be hammered into them, and because the ball players keep physically fit the government will not doubt permit them to continue playing ball, providing they receive a certain amount of drilling from day to day.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PLAYERS SET EXAMPLE WHICH MAY SAVE GAME

By JACK VEIOCK. International News Sports Editor.

New York, May 9. Military drills may solve a knotty problem for major league club owners if all of the sixteen big league teams take up the practice and stick to it throughout the season.

George "Babe" Ruth is out to lead the pitchers of the American League this year, both in the matter of games won and effectiveness.

But Ruth is there with the pitching arm, and with a head that is cool as an cucumber, and he has confidence in George Ruth, which is a big thing in the majors or any other league for that matter.
