U. S. SPECIAL COMMISSION FOR THE DIVISION OF WEST MISSISSIPPI.—We have already indicated the purpose and functions of this important Commission composed of Major General W. F. Smith, U. S. A., and James T. Brady, Esq., of New York. It will now be seen by a notice from it in another column that the scope of its investigations is not limited to the Department of the Gulf, but extends throughout the Military Division of West Mississippi. The immediate appeal of the Commission is to citizens of New Orleans who are cognizant as sufferers or as observers of corrupt and oppressive acts by persons acting as U. S. Government officials. We advise a careful perusal of the notice itself, which concerns all who value public justice and a wholesome administration of affairs.

In the New York papers of the 5th the Guiding Star and the Fanny Stuney are advertised to leave for this port on the 8th inst.

The officers of the steamers Magenta and Continental have our thanks for polite attentions and valued newspaper favors.

Expedition from Brookhaven.

(From the Blakeley, Ala. special correspondence of the Times.)

The expedition, says the Brookhaven Telegraph, which left this place a month since, under the direction of Eugene Holmes, having failed in the original design, owing to the treachery, we regret to say, of some in our midst, has returned, after an arduous and not altogether unsuccessful cruise against the enemy. The fruits of the slight victory are more than counterbalanced by the fall of the brave seamen of the party, and the young, gallant McDermott who commanded them.

The expedition captured one Lieutenant and thirteen negro soldiers with arms and equipments, two schooners and a considerable amount of stores. One schooner and a portion of the stores were burned for the want of transportation. Casualties: Killed, Lieut. E. J. McDermott; seamen, James Williams, Andrew Jacks, T Fannen, Bernard Oliver. Wounded, Edward Riley, Andrew Black, John Morand.

Additional from the North via the River.

Arrival of the Magenta and the Continental.

By the arrival last evening of the above steamers we have Western papers to the 8th, including Cairo dates to that day, at 5 P. M. We have also newspaper dates from New York to the 5th instant.

The Scene in Church When Jeff Davis Received Lee's Dispatch—New style of Fortifications Around Richmond—Interviews Between President Lincoln and Judge Campbell.

New York, April 8—The Tribune's Richmond correspondent says: When Davis received Lee's dispatch, in church, he was much agitated, and left the church. All eyes centered upon him.

When the services were concluded the minister was handed a note, and he hastened off as speedily as possible.

There are seven distinct lines of fortifications surrounding Richmond, protected by a new style of the most formidable 'chevaux de frize.' They consist of short heavy sticks, pointing like spokes from a hub, so close that they cannot be crowded through.

Among the first to seek an interview with the President was Judge Campbell. He was with him half an hour, and again longer the next day.

On the part of the citizens there is generally a disposition to acquiesce in a return to the Union.

New York, April 7—The Herald has information direct from Richmond that President Lincoln is there actually engaged upon business of peace, that yesterday a meeting he had private conference with Judge Campbell who, with the advice and consent of Jeff Davis, rec[illegible] to see what could be done in behalf of his desponding associates. It is also understood Wednesday last was fixed for another interview, at which Gen. Weitzel and others on the Union side and prominent rebel leaders on their side were to be present.

COL. WOOLEY'S DISPATCHES.

New York, April 8.—The Times Washington special, given on correct authority, says Col. Wooley's letter, which says that Col. Wooley, of the 26th Ohio, arrived in that city a few days ago with important dispatches to the Government, which are supposed to look toward a peace movement on the part of that State.

[The dispatches here referred to are doubtless the same reported heretofore as being sent by Gen. Lew Wallace after an interview with Gen. Slaughter, at Point Isabel.

CONDITION OF SHERMAN'S ARMY ON THE 4TH—FLAG OF TRUCE INTERVIEW WITH WADE HAMPTON.

New York, April 8.—The World's Washington special says that a letter from Goldsboro, of the 5th, says that Sherman had not yet moved The army, however, had been fully supplied with clothing and provisions and were ready for any emergency.

An interview with Wade Hampton, under a flag of truce, had taken place, but for what purpose was not known.

THE HARRIET DEFORD BLOCKADED.

The Navy Department has received the following:

To Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy

Point Lookout, April 5—The Harriet Deford is in Indian Creek, Virginia, blockaded by several of my gunboats. As soon as the lightdraught gunboats get up she will be recaptured or destroyed. Respectfully,

K. A. P.
Commander Potomac Flotilla.

THE SURRENDER OF GEN. LEE CONTRADICTED.

Philadelphia, April 7.—Jay Cooke has received a dispatch from Washington, stating that the report that Gen. Robert E. Lee is taken is contradicted. It is Fitzhugh Lee. We have the army, however, except small fragments, whose capture with Lee Sheridan reports inevitable.

RAILROAD FROM WASHINGTON TO RICHMOND.

New York, April 7.—The Commercial's special says the work of restoring the railroad from Washington to Richmond is actively pursued. It will be reopened in a short time.

TONE OF THE RICHMOND SENTINEL, DAVIS'S ORGAN, THE DAY BEFORE THE EVACUATION.

[From the Richmond Sentinel, April 1.]

We are very hopeful of the campaign which is now opening, and think that we are to run a large advantage from the operations evidently near at hand. But our people should clearly comprehend that whatever the temporary result, and though misfortune beyond what it seems in the bounds of possibility should be fall our our independence will still be in our option, and our final success will still be beyond the power of our enemies to prevent it.

The views which we copy from the London Times to-day expresses a sound judgment as to our ability to force our enemy to proper terms at the very time when they might suppose that they had conquered us We have only to resolve that we will never "surrender," and it would be impossible that we shall ever be taken. Our country is too large to be held; our enemies could never afford to maintain the armies necessary for hostile occupation, nothing could exceed the longing they would feel for a settlement which would enable them to return to a peace establishment.

Nothing could exceed the necessity which would thereby impel them. The proof and the illustrations are seen in their anxiety to bring the war to a speedy close. They know that their debt is already intolerable, and far beyond the power of confiscation to discharge it. The difficulty of raising troops has become so great that only the most ruinous bounties will avail to secure the most indifferent recruits. But for the hope that they would soon succeed they would this day break down.

As for ourselves, nothing could equal in its horror the dreadful calamity of Yankee domination in our land. Awful as have been the four years of sacrifice through which we have passed, they have been four years of joy compared with what they would have been with the heel of Lincoln on our backs.

MOVEMENT OF GEN. HANCOCK'S COLUMN BY THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY AGAINST LYNCHBURG AND LEE'S REAR.

New York, April 7.—The Commercial's special says that intelligence from the Upper Potomac says that Hancock's column is in motion up the Shenandoah valley, toward Lynchburg, behind Lee, manage to survive Grant's blows in front, Hancock will shatter his rear.

The Commercial says this is the movement it referred to several days since, and after repeated delays it has at last opened. The troops are on the move.

Another Washington dispatch says that Gen. Sheridan's column is again in motion, and it is believed that Johnston will not attempt to hold Raleigh, but retreat to the interior.

Private Correspondence, Abandoned at Charleston, Aired Through the Northern Press.

The Charleston special correspondent of the New York Tribune, in a letter published in that paper on the 1st inst., says:

A mass of private correspondence abandoned by the Rebels, has been found in Charleston, and will soon find its way into the family and the public archives of the North. It will reveal many secrets of the Rebellion that have never been divulged, and which, but for the flight and evacuation of this city, might never have been known. It is due to a public enemy that his personal letters—those which throw no light on his public action—should be respected by the chivalrous opponent; or, if they are used, that they should be published with no close whatever to their authorship. Love letters interest everybody, and I publish two of them below; but, although I know who wrote them, I must respect the sanctity of names of other writers.

Among other letters found in the house of the late Charity Hospital, the scared multitude ran off. One lady was wounded by a shot which grazed her skull, but she was able to leave in the morning.

The husband, it was found, had been shot through the body, a revolver ball passing through the fourth ribs on both sides of the body, passing through the lungs, causing death in a few days. The wife, however, for a time could not say whether he had been shot in the house or after attempting to escape through the rear of the premises. The authorities may, however, be able to bring the guilty parties to justice, as a clue to trace them out appears to have been found.

The Coroner's verdict was in accordance with the above facts.

A Thief Shot and Killed—We previously reported that the notorious negro burglar and thief Dan Williams, who escaped from the city jail, after having committed a burglary on Royal street, between Esplanade and Barracks streets. This morning, while attempted to escape, attacking officers Evans and Tansey with a huge bowie knife. He was only recaptured after several shots had taken effect in his body. The wounded scoundrel died in the hospital yesterday. The verdict was in harmony with the above.

First District Court.—Judge Abel—John Kramer, formerly an officer of the Second Recorder's Court, was charged with having obtained $40 from Ellen Williams, after she, with another party, had been before Recorder Wheeley. He had no right to exact anything. Accused plead not guilty.

John Carey, charged with an assault and battery on Adam Thomas, was arraigned and plead not guilty.

A new Grand Jury was empanelled, but only four gentlemen were found eligible for the petit jury, for this reason the trial of cases was suspended for this week.

Police Courts—Time. Bolley was sent before the First District Court to answer the charge of having stolen 1 gold breast pin, 1 gold chain, 2 pairs of ear-rings, 1 fingering, 1 pair of buttons, 1 breast pin, &c., valued at $200.

Mary Henry, charged by Eliza Lockhart with having purchased stolen property with guilty knowledge, has to answer before a jury Bail, $500.

Mary Savoy charged with having snatched $5 in currency, from Rose Thompson, was sent before the First District Court for trial. Bail, $500.

Eliza Otis and her son Thompson, were arraigned before Recorder Vennard yesterday, on the charge of having stolen $4000 in gold and silver coin from Mrs. Holbrook, during his absence from the city about four months ago. The accused Eliza, colored, was employed as a cook in the house of the prosecuting witness, residing at the corner of St. John and Lafayette streets.

It was shown in evidence that accused, during Christmas and New Year's days, displayed considerable sums of coin and feasted nightly about twenty persons, the table being set at a cost of from $200 to $300 each time. Having paid $900 in coin, it is alleged, to the building of a church in Carrollton and gave her son Thompson $200 for clothing. The accused were sent before the First District Court.

Charles M. Sullivan and other persons, who had not properly taken out their city licenses for the last quarter, were fined $10 each.

C. Jones entered the arrest of a woman when the world looked upon him as her husband, for vagrancy. Recorder Vennard, on learning these facts, asked the prosecutor if he was not ashamed of himself to have arrested a female in the house stated, and to sign a receipt for his property. The other cases were of the usual drunkard and disturbance of the peace standard, and were disposed of according.

Recorder Court — Judge N. Luther.—Aug. Meier was tried on the charge of having sent 5 bbls of oil beyond the lines from Point Coupee, in violation of military order. The evidence was that the purchasers of the flour were within the pickets when it was sent to them. The case is under advisement.

James Clark accused of having sold and Jacob Bowlin, tried for having purchased—also cash for Government wood,—were dismissed.

United States District Court—Judge Duvel.—Judgement by default was rendered in the libel case against 20 lots of ground, the property of Mary Ann Gaudet, wife of Jos. Hernandez.

The libels against 11 lots of ground of J. R Brady, and 28 lots of J. W. Zacharie, were continued indefinitely.

The Court refused to grant the motion of the U. S. District Attorney, made on the ground that the 30 interrogatories regarding the loyalty of the latter proposed, in the case against Wirt Adams, had not been satisfactorily answered. The Court held that the intervenor had a right to interrogate to his allegiance and therefore answered the interrogatories satisfactorily.
