draw his warrant upon the treasurer in favor of the person entitled to the overpayment, directing the said treasurer to refund the same out of any money in the treasury not enherwise appropriated.

Late on Saturday night, the postmaster general sent an apology to the sense declaring that he did not intend any thing disrespectful to that body. Kendalii was providing about the chamber begging the senators to excuse him, and when there was very few present, Mr. Allen, of Ohio, offered a resolution, declaring his apology satisfactory to the senate. DOINGS OF THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLETER FOR THE SCPRESSION AND PREVENTION OF TIPPLINS.—By N. Greene North.—This is the title of a little pamphlet, written by a gentleman well and favorably known to the community as the former editor of that spirited paper the Picayune. The opusculum in question contains the proceedings of the Mississippi legislature in relation to the Tuppling act, the bill itself, a brief epitome of the state of public opinion on the subject, and some considerations respecting the possibility of enforcing the law. The writer regards this as entirely practicable and supports his opinions by the conclusions of analogy furmshed by other states. Tennessee in particular, in which state a law situater in its provision, to that recently adopted in Mississipph, has been for one year in operation with the happiest effects. Until the passage of the law, Tennessee equally with Mississipph, had been subject to all the pernicious criticalising from swarms of hierneed tippling a opsetching of the conference of the act preventive of the retail of automatical interests.

has certainly made as great exertions to comply with one sparit and intention of its chatter as any of the others and offers to the state better securities.

Nothing could allord me more pleasure than to join the legislature in any plan of internal improvement likely to quite into a common centre, either by water or naid communications every section of our state, to san der every portion of our rich soil accessible to cultivation, to connect this state with her neighbers of the West and to join the link which is now approaching use from the heast. I am waver that, arrived as you are at 'the closes of your session, much auxiety exists amongst you to return to your homes. A few days however, exclusively and earnestly devoted to this fin jortant subject might enable you to highest a plan of internal improvements worthy of the exalted position which this state ought to hold in the Union.

Permit use to assumit to your consideration the full fowing suggestions.
