What China Needs,
It is Not Material Progress as Much as Christianity.

By Rev. W. B. H. Fitch, D.D.

Bishop of the Chinese Church.

What China needs is not material progress as much as Christianity. The Chinese people are in need of the same things that the people of all other nations are in need of: namely, an opportunity to make their lives worth while. This is what Christianity offers them. It is not the only thing that they need, but it is the most important thing. Without Christianity, they will hardly ever be able to make their lives worth while. They will never be able to get rid of their: ignorance, superstition, and so forth.

END OF DOG THIEF-TAKER.

Mr. Brown, a wool dealer, is said to be in town. He is a man of considerable wealth and influence. He is said to be a good man, and to have done much for the advancement of the town.

The Chinese are said to be in a flourishing condition, and to be making a great deal of money. They are said to be doing business with the English, and to be doing business with the Americans.

The Chinese are said to be in a flourishing condition, and to be doing business with the English, and to be doing business with the Americans.