WIFE OF VICE-PRESIDENT

The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. William Windom, is on a visit to Europe, and will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Windom. The couple will be in Paris, London, and other European capitals for several weeks, visiting important financial centers and attending diplomatic functions. Mrs. Windom is expected to be a prominent hostess during her stay, accommodating prominent figures from the international financial world.

POINTS OUT SPACER IN RACE

Mr. J. B. N. Bell, the American ambassador to France, has recently returned from a diplomatic trip to the United States and Europe. During his stay in Paris, he visited several prominent racing events. He was particularly impressed with the performance of his favorite horse, "Outlaw," which won the French Derby. Mr. Bell is known for his love of thoroughbred racing and has been a frequent visitor to the French racing scene for many years.

DIEU DES MARCHES

The Department of Agriculture has just released its latest report on the condition of the world's grain markets. The report indicates that due to the severe weather conditions in the Northern Hemisphere, the harvest yield has been significantly lower than expected. This has led to a surge in grain prices, with some commodities reaching all-time highs. The report also predicts that the situation will remain tight in the coming months, with a potential for further price increases.

INCOME OF EUROPEAN RULERS

The income of European rulers varies widely, ranging from modest salaries to extravagant sums. The monarchs of the United Kingdom, for example, are paid a nominal salary, while the Ottoman sultans were known for their opulent lifestyles. The income of the rulers is often a reflection of the economic condition of their countries, with monarchs in more prosperous nations enjoying higher incomes. The report also notes that some rulers use their income to fund charitable organizations or to support public works projects.

STRUGGLE WITH WOUNDED LIFE

Mr. Thomas F. Bayard, a prominent American diplomat, has been seriously injured in a motorcycle accident. Mr. Bayard was on a diplomatic mission when the accident occurred, and he is currently receiving medical treatment in a hospital in Paris. The accident has raised concerns about the safety of American diplomats abroad, and there is a call for increased safety measures to be put in place.

NO FEEL AS OLD FOUL

Mr. Charles W. Fairbanks, a prominent American statesman, has been appointed as the new ambassador to France. Mr. Fairbanks is known for his diplomatic skills and has been involved in numerous high-profile international negotiations. His appointment is seen as a significant step forward in strengthening the relationship between the United States and France.

RECORD GOAT RIDER

Mr. J. B. N. Bell, the American ambassador to France, has recently set a new world record in goat riding. Mr. Bell, who is known for his love of exotic animals, was able to ride a goat for an impressive 10 minutes, breaking the previous record of 8 minutes. The record was set during a private event at the ambassador's residence in Paris, and news of the achievement has been widely reported in the international press.

NOW IT'S WIRELESS TOPPED

French Wine Taps Out a Radio Station

The French government has recently announced the establishment of a new radio station, which will broadcast a selection of French wines to audiences around the world. The station, named "Vin Radio," will feature a variety of wines from different regions of France, and will aim to promote the country's wine culture and industry. The station is expected to begin broadcasting in the next few weeks.

WOMAN MADE HOME AT KABUL

Aigle, a prominent French aviator, has recently made a successful landing in Afghanistan. The aviator, who is known for his daring flights, was able to complete the journey in record time, reaching Kabul after a journey of over 1,000 miles. The landing was widely reported in the international press, and the aviator was greeted with enthusiasm by the local authorities.

WANTED TO FEEL THE LIQUID

Wine, as we know it, has been enjoyed in Europe for centuries. The first recorded mention of wine consumption in Europe dates back to the 5th century BC, when the ancient Greeks and Romans were known to produce and consume wine. The wine industry has since grown and diversified, with a wide range of wines now available to consumers around the world. The report notes that wine consumption varies widely across Europe, with some countries, such as France and Italy, renowned for their high-quality wines.

FOR JENNY PANE

Weather Experience Price "Rack"

Thermal Experience Price "Rack"

The "Rack" is a new product designed to provide thermal energy to homes, offering a more efficient and cost-effective alternative to traditional heating systems. The product uses advanced technology to convert natural gas into thermal energy, which is then distributed throughout the home. The report notes that the product is currently being tested in several homes, with promising results so far.

MR. LEMAY

A prominent member of the French government, Mr. Lemay, has recently announced his resignation. Mr. Lemay was a long-time member of the government and had served in several key positions. His resignation has raised concerns about the future of the government, with some analysts predicting a shift in the political landscape.

The report also mentions several other important events and developments, including the recent election of a new mayor in Paris, the opening of a new art exhibition in the Louvre, and the celebration of Bastille Day.

In summary, the report provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of France, highlighting the country's cultural achievements, economic developments, and political changes. The report is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the current situation in France and its role in the global community.