AMERICANISM.

Our friends, the Democrats par excellence that is, the Democrats who stick to the administration of FRANKLIN PIERCE, because it is styled "Democratic," have undertaken the Sysiphean labor of annihilating the American party. It is a desperate attempt, and desperately conducted. The Democrats in their assaults upon this party, are like men who strike in the dark at an indiscriminate crowd. They hit friends and foes at every blow. They run a muck, like the opium-eating Malay, and aim their weapons furiously at all who stand in their way. This species of weapon is eminently dangerous to the assailants, and we marvel they have not yet made the discovery. Our Democratic friends may rely upon it that the effort to exterminate Americanism is the most hopeless of chimeras. They might as well seek to put down the American people, for Americanism is but the spontaneous and unpremeditated expression of a nationality long dormant, but now thoroughly aroused to the peril of the crisis, and the necessity of action.

Of all shallow and futile policies, there is none more absurd than the attempt to awaken sectional prejudices against the American party. This is so hackneyed a game, has been so frequently played, and so often exploded, that we should be surprised at its repetition, were it not obvious that the Democracy have no better resources. Their quiver contains this single arrow. 'True, it is double headed, and when launched from the North, is tipped with 'proslavery,' and when hurled from the South, is pointed with "Abolitionism." When the Tribune pulls the bow-string, the North is to be terrified with the apprehension that the American party is a vast organization for the propagation of the peculiar institution; but when the Richmond Enquirer turns archer and levels its weapons, the South is to be affrighted into the belief that the Know Nothings are all pestilent abolitionists. Now, as the aforesaid Know Nothings cannot be for and against slavery at the same time, the conclusion is inevitable, that these contradictory charges are mere gas and gammon.

Those who take the trouble to think—a mental operation which democratic editors are apt to neglect, when party spirit is at stake—understand well enough the folly of striving to crush Americanism by the small potato warfare of hard names, abusive epithets and slanderous imputations. They perceive that an order which has grown with astounding rapidity until it extends throughout the land, and numbers its victories with every political contest, must be something far more serious than a faction, and must be animated by principles infinitely more exalted than the narrow creed of party, or the pernicious heresy of sectionalism. They feel that this order must have been called into being by evils and abuses which have gradually become intolerable; that from its very nature it must necessarily impair the usefulness of party organization, and draw its recruits from all parties; that it is in all human probability destined to ex at until the objects for which it is contending shall have been accomplished. The idea of uprooting this organization by the stale and worn out machinery of an electioneering campaign is supremely ridiculous. The attempt to create a sectional panic from a legitimate subject of discussion, and wore democratic editors to confine their strictures to an examination of the expediency of altering and extending the Naturalization laws,—they might perchance succeed in convincing American freemen that these laws are perfect, have never led to improper results, and require no modification. They would possibly find the task rather troublesome, to be sure. Hence perhaps their preference for windy vituperation. It is an easy to revile. Nothing more than some command of language, and some spirit and energy are needed. But we can assure our democratic friends that no such invention and abuse can long operate upon the American party do not injure it one jot. Curses, like chickens, always come home to roost. The democrats, with every imprecation, now send, which in due time will spring up armed warriors, panoplied for their destruction.

WHAT, SILENT STILL AND SMART! — We look occasionally, in some cave, cave, to the Exponent, the Democratic Know Nothing Locofoco of whose are orcane or friends of the Know Nothings—whether the Louisiana Americans are inimical to the acquisition of Cuba. As yet, not one of them has dared to utter a word in reply. Come, gentlemen, this will never do. Your new party, the old white negro-nativist, claims all the virtues in the catalogue, the patriotism of the country, and it certainly ought to have some common policy on the Cuba question.—Courier

We bear pardon of our cotemporary for not noticing his query before, but we overlooked it. For the Courier, wants to know what the Bee thinks of the acquisition of Cuba, we are ready to answer; but to question us concerning the opinions of the American party on the subject is idle in the extreme. We are not aware that the policy of acquiring Cuba enters into their programme, and to discover the individual sentiments of each member of the party is a labor that we are sure our friends of the Courier are too generous to seek to impose on us.

OPPOSITION PATRIOT.—The is the title of a neat country paper just started at Opposumsville. It is published weekly by Messrs. Dr. and Thompson and Livingston. The Patriot is independent in politics, but appears to be inclined to warde Know Nothingism.

THE AMERICAN PATRIOT.—We had the pleasure yesterday of receiving from our friend J. B. HARRIS, Editor of the American Patriot. The journal is published at Canton, Esq. Feliciana, and enjoys a large circulation in that and the surrounding parishes. The Patriot is a paper of decided merit, and is conducted by Mr. HARRIS, with an energy and ability rarely to be found in the country press. It is at its name imports, a firm and undeviating advocate of American principles.

The Patriot, from its circulation and influence, is a highly suitable medium for advertising. Mr. HARRIS will remain a day or two in New Orleans, and may be found at the City Hotel.

CONCERT BY GOTTSCHALK.—We are gratified at being authorized to announce that L. M. GOTTSCHALK, in compliance with the urgent solicitations of friends, will give a GRAND concert on Tuesday, or Wednesday evening next, at Odd Fellows Hall, on which occasion he will perform a number of entirely new and original compositions. Some of these, we are told, are exceedingly beautiful, and call in play all the vast and varied resources of this great pianist. His programme will appear in a day or two.

MADAME DE VRIES' CONCERT to-morrow evening at Odd Fellows Hall promises to be a brilliant affair. She will sing a number of favorite solos and duets; among which we observe Casta Diva, the delicious duet Ah! non fuggirmi la Mano, the Echo Song, Ah! non fui, the Ratapan duet, and the finale of the Somnambula. Madame DE VRIES' glorious voice should be attractive enough, but she will be assisted by Senor MORSIBO, an eminent baryitone, Mons. LEFANU, a celebrated pianist, and Mons. PAGANINI, a violinist of the first rank. We look for a crowded and radience. The sale of tickets commenced yesterday, and a large number of seats were disposed of.

STEAMBOAT HUMAN NOSE.—On Saturday last, 24th ult., the steamboat Harriet, bound for St. Martins, with a valuable cargo from New Orleans, was snagged in the Atchafalaya river and sank in about twenty feet water. Part of her cargo, we learn, was saved, but the boat is a total wreck.

SHIPWRECK.—The brig R. Spear, Captain Smith, of Portsmouth, N. H., sailed from Portland, Me., on the 3d ult. for Cardenas, with a load of shooks, and when off Salt Key, the weather being very thick, went ashore on Dog Rock, on the 27th ult. She will prove a total loss. The captain and crew arrived here yesterday on the ship Diadem.

WOMEN IN THE JERSEYS.—The Maine Liquor Law received the coup de grace in the New Jersey Legislature on Friday, 23d ultimo. According to the Newark Advertiser, a motion to reconsider the vote of Thursday, defeating the bill, was lost; one cause of which was the disgraceful conduct of some females in the gallery when the original vote was taken. The Advertiser correspondent says:

> At the announcement of the vote they disheartened their pretty hips by hissing. Subsequently, one of them in the gallery exhibited her indignation in a manner not very admirable, by holding up a copy of the liquor bill and launching it at the head of Mr. Allen, who was prominent in opposing the bill.

After the adjournment of the Senate, a still greater violation of lady-like behavior was perpetrated. Mr. Bonsel, of Sussex, was requested to step to the bar and be introduced to some ladies. On complying with this request, an intoxicated old woman was shoved forward, and one of the ladies said to Mr. B., "you have assisted to defeat this bill, now send of this woman's breath and see what will be the result of your action." Mr. Bonsel replied in a manner which made the self-styled ladies blush for their conduct.

APPOINTMENT BY THE PRESIDENT.—By and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate.—Gen. Winfield Scott, of the army of the United States, to be Lieutenant-General by brevet on the same, for eminent services in the late war with Mexico, to take rank as such from March 29, 1847, the day on which the United States forces, under his command, captured Vera Cruz and the Castle of San Juan de Ulua.

The Second Conference and Mr. Soule.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Herald and Times today publish a synopsis of the correspondence which led to the Second Conference. The substance of this statement is that Secretary Marcy wrote to Messrs. Buchanan, Mason and Soule, our Ministers to England, France and Spain, setting forth the advantages to the United States attending the acquisition of Cuba, stating the reasons which led him to believe that Spain was under obligations to France and England, and requesting the three Ministers to meet at some convenient point to consider the subject.

The Ministers accordingly met at Ostend, as is well known, and resolved upon the acquisition of Cuba by purchase, or if necessary, by conquest.—Mr. Marcy was not willing to go beyond offers for its purchase, and Mr. Soule feeling himself treated with indignity, resigned.

The letters from Secretary Marcy to Mr. Soule are very strong, and instructed him to demand $300,000 indemnity for the outrage committed on the steamship Black Warrior, and to require its payment immediately. He intimated that the Administration of Cuba by Spain, would never be allowed.

The correspondence is very voluminous.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The publication of the correspondence leading to the Ostend Conference, has created the most profound excitement here.

Know-Nothing Victories.

At the municipal election in Lancaster yesterday, the whole Know-Nothing ticket was elected.

BOSTON, March 7.—The town elections in Massachusetts, on the 5th, resulted almost unanimously in favor of the Know-Nothings.

State Legislature.

BATON ROUGE, March 7, 1855.

The Senate to-day passed the bill allowing the Citizens' Bank to establish branches in Baton Rouge and Shreveport.

The business of the day was occupied in passing private bills.

In the House, the bill amending the City Charter of New Orleans, by changing the time of holding the election from March to September, was up. It was amended by changing the time of holding the election from the third Monday of September to the first Monday of July. The was much excitement in the House. Those opposed to the bill left the Chamber, and the House adjourned for want of a quorum.

River Intelligence.

LOUISVILLE, March 5.—The river is mild and pleasant. Slight rains have occurred since Saturday. The steamers Crescent City, Baltimore and Grand Turk have arrived from the Lower Ports.

CINCINNATI, March 5.—The river is entirely open for navigation, and it is now raining. Sales of Flour have been made at $8.35 per bbl. Whisky is in active demand at 25c per gallon. Mess Pork remains at $15.00 per bbl. Sales of Shoulders at 8 and Sides at 10c per pound.

PITTSBURGH, March 5.—The river is still falling with but 3 feet six inches water in the channel.

Ship Burnt at Sea.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The shipper ship Arman from New Orleans, bound for Marseilles, was struck by lightning while on the voyage, and entirely consumed. The crew and passengers, numbering 27, in the river were all saved by a passing vessel. The Arman was owned by Messrs. Hand & Co., of Baltimore.

The Black Warrior at New York.

The steamship Black Warrior, Capt. Bulkley, from New Orleans, 24th ult., via Havana 27th, arrived yesterday. She brings $400,000 in specie, and 1,000 bales cotton. Of that sum was not mutilated by the authorities.

It was rumored at Havana that all foreigners will shortly be compelled to bear arms, or leave the island.

The Catawba at this port brings dates several days later than the Black Warrior.]

The Nicaragua Steamers.

The Northern steamer will not leave this port on the 15th and 30th of the month, instead of the 16th and 1st, as hereto fore.

New Orleans Cotton Markets.

Our Cotton market is very dull, and prices have declined ¼ @ ⅜ P. Receipts Friday are a little lighter, with sales of about 1,000 bales at 9½ @ 9¾, 9 lbs.

The New Army Brigade.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Much dissatisfaction exists among Democratic Congressmen at the failure of the Free Soil party to support the Pierce bill for the new Brigade of the army raised for frontier defense. Washington, March 7.—Several Democratic members of the House of Representatives in Congress are soughed under to the President, in which they were told, as also, that the Secretary of War and Attorney General was made, when it was well known to the whole of Gen. Shield is to receive said appointment.

CHARLESTON, March 6.—Rev. Mr. Reynolds, Roman Catholic Bishop of Charleston, died to-day.

HAVANA.

The steamship Cahawba arrived at an early hour yesterday morning from New York, via Havana. She reached Havana on the 4th, and left again the same day.

Havana was quiet, and business, which had been somewhat interrupted by the recent excitement, was reviving. About six thousand of the inhabitants of the city had volunteered for its defence, and were armed and equipped, and doing duty in the absence of the regiments of the line, who were encamped about three leagues from Havana, guarding a third quarantine line. The yellow fever had taken place during the past week, and it was generally believed that the Captain General would decamp with his troops when the fever broke out.

No evidences were observed of a blockade of the port—at least the Cahawba met with no interference.

MAISON BOURGUAT.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

On the 1st inst., a fire occurred in Philadelphia, on Chestnut street below Seventh, in one of Fisher's elegant block of stores. It commenced in the room occupied by Messrs. Bright & Weller's publication office, and destroyed the whole upper part of the building. Messrs. B. & W. lose $5,000, and Messrs. Wilcox & Co., Daguerreotypists, nearly as much. Chartier's saloon, also occupies the third floor, as also the adjoining store, loses $10,000, on which he has an insurance for $4,000. The building adjoining, in which he has his celebrated Palace Hat store, was damaged by water to some extent, but not seriously. The lower part of the building in which the fire originated, was occupied by the extensive carpet store of James H. Orme, whose stock was also damaged by the water thrown into the building—probably not more than $15,000. The rear store was saved. The damage to the building is estimated at $20,000, which is insured. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been some defect in the flue.

The United States Agricultural society announced its third annual fair to be held on the 25th, at the Smithsonian Institution. Twenty-six statesmen were represented.

The Whig State Convention of Connecticut has renominated the ticket of last year. The Convention passed a series of resolutions endorsing the American principle, including opposition to American industry, and declaring that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise was one of the most unjustifiable acts in the history of legislation. It is signed by 940 gentlemen, including Charles Jackson, Edward Everett, the Lawrences, Hen. Humphrey, and many other of the most influential men. They "respectfully submit, that the removal of a Judge by address to the Executive, for an act which has been in unchecked operation, and not prohibited by law, is an infringement upon the independence of the Judiciary, and is not within the just and true interpretation of the Constitution of Massachusetts."

The virtual defeat of Gen. Cameron for U. S. Senator, comes while raising among his enemies, and severe denunciations from his personal friends.

The Pacific Ocean covers 78 millions of square miles; the Atlantic 99 millions; the Indian Ocean 14 millions. The Southern Ocean to 30 degrees, is 95 millions. The Northern Ocean five millions. The Mediterranean one million. The Black Sea 170,000. The Baltic 175,000. The North Sea 160,000.

A correspondent of the Staunton Spectator states that the Rev. M. Brown, of Bath county, Va., married a couple a few days ago across a river—that is, the parson was on one side, and bridegroom and his relatives on the other. This mode was resorted to on account of the river being impassable. The license was thrown across the stream by the bridegroom, after having wrapped it tightly around a stone.

A party of Sioux Indians who recently went on a hunt along the east side of the Mississippi river and in the neighborhood of Rice Lake, Minnesota territory, killed in one month five hundred deer, and a very large number of smaller game. This was one of the most profitable hunting ground of the Sioux, but they have received permission to hunt there from Governor Gorman. During the hunt they encountered a party of their inveterate enemies, the Chippewas, and had a fight, in which several Sioux were wounded and scalped.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

"LIGHT, STILL MORE LIGHT."—The Delta has often complained of the insufficiency of light in the St. Charles Theatre. It is said that this is rather a revenge'ul criticism than a just complaint, the manager having, it appears, given the printing patronage of his establishment to a rival office. Without pardoning or denying the truth of our cotemporary's assertion, we would suggest to Mr. DeBar, if not an increase of the number of jets, a longer continuation of their light. At present it is the custom to reduce the light as soon as the curtain falls, which effectually prevents the audience from contemplating the great attractions before the curtain. People go to the Theatre as much for the purpose of seeing the audience as for witnessing the performances on the stage. More light.

MR. MORGAN BUCHANAN.—This gentleman, who has been absent from this city for five years past, arrived here in the steamship Cahawba on Tuesday. He commences an engagement at the St. Charles Theatre to-morrow night.

THE HEBREW SALL.—The Mask and Fancy Dress Ball of the Hebrew Benevolent Association, in celebration of its fifteenth anniversary, at Odd Fellows' Hall last night, was largely attended. We dropped in for a few minutes at an advanced hour of the night, and found the greatest gayety prevailing. It was considered one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind of the season.

ST. CHARLES THEATRE.—Miss Louise Howard and Mr. Henry Farren are to have a benefit at the St. Charles Theatre to-night, and will make on the occasion their last appearance in this city this season. The performance is to be performed, to gether with a burlesque which has never before been represented in New Orleans, entitled "The Mandarin's Daughter, or the Dinner Plate." In the burlesque the charming Miss Howard and the former Mr. Farren will appear. These meritorious performers should have a crowded house, for that high order of talent which they possess is but rarely seen on our stage.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.—A large number of warrants were yesterday issued by Judge Robertson, for the arrest of various persons for keeping Coffee-houses and retailing spirituous liquors without a license from the city authorities. Not less than fifty persons were arrested during the day. They were required each to give bonds of $300 for their appearance.

DISCHARGED.—Owen Hare, charged with obtaining goods by false pretences from Wm Kernaghan, was discharged, the case being a civil one. Dominick Mahoney, charged with beating his wife Mary, was also discharged, as the prosecutrix did not appear to sustain the complaint. Mahoney is now here, before the First District Court to answer to the charge of having committed an assault and battery on policeman Edward J. Connolly.

COMMITTED.—James Brown, charged with attempting to pick the pockets of William Corbitt, in the Fourth District Court, was yesterday by Recorder Bright on bonds of $500 before the First District Court to answer.

THE WIFE MURDER IN TCHOUPITOULAS STREET.—An inquest was yesterday held by the Coroner on the body of Mary Ann Scott, who died in the Charity Hospital on Monday last, from the effect she received from the FILED of an axe. Persons cognizant with the FITS go to the Doctor and get restored; he will also vanish RHEUMATIC PAINS on the spot; he will restore GOOD HAIR to the Bald Head. Dr. S. will cure CONSUMPTION even in the second stage, in from twenty-one to twenty-five days. SECRET DISEASES cured in the first attendance and without loss of time to the patient.

Persons are allowed to see the Doctor at his office, receiving Sight to the Blind. Doctor allows his Diploma to hang in his office.

MAISON BOURGUAT.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

On the 1st inst., a fire occurred in Philadelphia, on Chestnut street below Seventh, in one of Fisher's elegant block of stores. It commenced in the room occupied by Messrs. Bright & Weller's publication office, and destroyed the whole upper part of the building. Messrs. B. & W. lose $5,000, and Messrs. Wilcox & Co., Daguerreotypists, nearly as much. Chartier's saloon, also occupies the third floor, as also the adjoining store, loses $10,000, on which he has an insurance for $4,000. The building adjoining, in which he has his celebrated Palace Hat store, was damaged by water to some extent, but not seriously. The lower part of the building in which the fire originated, was occupied by the extensive carpet store of James H. Orme, whose stock was also damaged by the water thrown into the building—probably not more than $15,000. The rear store was saved. The damage to the building is estimated at $20,000, which is insured. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been some defect in the flue.

The United States Agricultural society announced its third annual fair to be held on the 25th, at the Smithsonian Institution. Twenty-six statesmen were represented.

The Whig State Convention of Connecticut has renominated the ticket of last year. The Convention passed a series of resolutions endorsing the American principle, including opposition to American industry, and declaring that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise was one of the most unjustifiable acts in the history of legislation. It is signed by 940 gentlemen, including Charles Jackson, Edward Everett, the Lawrences, Hen. Humphrey, and many other of the most influential men. They "respectfully submit, that the removal of a Judge by address to the Executive, for an act which has been in unchecked operation, and not prohibited by law, is an infringement upon the independence of the Judiciary, and is not within the just and true interpretation of the Constitution of Massachusetts."

The virtual defeat of Gen. Cameron for U. S. Senator, comes while raising among his enemies, and severe denunciations from his personal friends.
