[Content of the page is not legible due to the image quality. This page appears to contain a large table with various columns and rows of data.]

The text is written in French and consists of a large table with columns and rows filled with text. The table is too dense and detailed to transcription accurately, but it likely contains historical or financial data typical of 19th-century newspapers.