L'ABEILLE DE LA NOUVELLE-ORLEANS-MERCREDI, 27 JANVIER 1906

In the evening, at about 5 p.m., the famous new American battleship "Indiana" passed into the entrance of the port of New Orleans, after a voyage of 7,000 miles, making her first appearance in the Gulf of Mexico. The vessel was accompanied by a large fleet of destroyers and other smaller vessels, and was cheered by the crowd as it steamed into the harbor. The "Indiana" is the first of the new class of battleships designed for the protection of American commerce and the defense of the United States.

New Varieties of Potato are in the Market.

New varieties of potato are in the market, according to the report of the United States Department of Agriculture. The new varieties include the "Red skins," the "Golden Wonder," and the "White Queen." These potatoes are said to be sweeter and more nutritious than the old varieties.

Peary After Pole.

In a letter to the editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, Admiral Peary, the celebrated Arctic explorer, writes: "I want to make a donation to the American Red Cross Society in recognition of its work in the relief of the sick and wounded during the war. I am enclosing a check for $5,000, which I hope will do some good."
