BORROWING AS A FINE ART

Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending "Fry Boats,"

Not to be Confused with "Fry Boats,"

This scene shows a French Pirate, as seen from a side view.

"Strap a keg of grog on your back, and a sword in your hand, and you'll never make a fortune,"

The original caption reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" and the note reads: "Not to be Confused with 'Fry Boats,'" suggesting that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.

— "Who wants to borrow a fine art?"

The caption above the image reads: "Who wants to borrow a fine art?" and the note reads: "Pirate Life — From Real Life! — To Illustrate the Impending 'Fry Boats,'" which suggests that the "Fry Boats" are a fictional or historical element, rather than a real event.