

YOUR HOROSCOPES

with Jenny Tarochi!

Aries (21st March - 20th April)

You may feel spiritually zapped that you wonder what is the point in putting all that effort you say, but a little craftiness by taking short cuts is what you'll do in dealing with an unfinished business, so what if you're not following the usual norm. Financially you are getting better at dealing with past failures this is a new month with fresh ideas. You may avoid looking at core issues and even try to avoid responsibilities in your love life. However the clouds are starting to lift off in your closest relationships.

Taurus (21st April - 20th May)

You could feel a little unwelcoming to visitors this month, you look at your past and it is holding you back from progressing so try to move on from it. Luckily you realise this and go through a major transformation and realise the beauty within and without fear you give generosity and freedom especially in love. You may feel the restrictive forces over your finances where there are choices but you still can't move. You also feel a little frustrated at work too but you have the strength to keep it under control. There may be delays in news or invitations arranged by your closest relationships.

Gemini (21st May - 21st June)

Maybe you're feeling quite down but don't be so harsh on yourself, you'll have lots of news where plans and communications are swift including your finances too. You overcome your negativity and let your wit take over, this includes going with the belief that love conquers all. You may find your work is mundane but you enjoy the ultimate rewards it shall give you in future for keeping the faith.

Cancer (22nd June - 23rd July)

Maybe you have rushed into something and are now having to deal with its consequences, but you shouldn't feel so hard done by it as you were only trying to forge a better set of ideas which you will see in due course. As one episode did not turn out as stable and promising, what you're most likely do now is go through a period of re-assessment in solitude. Be careful this month in over spending as your finances are showing extravagance. In your career and closest relationships you feel things could be more optimistic and shaken up more.

Leo (23rd July - 22nd August)

So you need to make a choice but which path and don't ignore it either, instead you'll be taking time out withdrawing which this will light your path to the correct one. Expect delays in financial transactions and general practical paperwork too. You will need to challenge the projects that are starting to take off too despite the setbacks in delays, and things are turning for the better in your career. Expect a lot of travelling with or visits from your closest relationships, also your love life may be on the low key but it can't be full on sun shine all the time.

Virgo (23rd August - 22nd September)

You feel so eager, revitalised and ready to take on any tasks with pride and nurture to care. You will also be remembering those good times in the past and may even meet the past again. Your mind may be pessimistic about your finances so you need to have more hope and pursue those changes. You are challenged to free yourself from an obsession with something and to let go. In your love life you may have become too lazy or too obsessive, but in your closest relationships you've surrendered yourself to doing what is expected of you instead of fighting for what you want to be doing instead.

Libra (23rd September - 23rd October)

You have so much compassion it can be contagious, yet you show the true desires to be balanced and fair too, even if being stern is needed. It's time to go ahead with plans that you've been dreaming on how you'll like them to be, but you'll have to put all your enthusiasm as back up and don't ignore potential outside suggestions. You may need to cut your losses and pull out now in investments if there are signs of stagnation or if going nowhere. There are delays and petty problems in practical and travel matters. In your love life the storm still lingers so it's best to just bring it all into the open as to continue will not allow you the full experience of a break through.

Scorpio (24th October - 21st November)

Your carefree and joyful inside though factors in your life makes you go under a re-assessment phase, as so to find a better way to build a stronger and stable foundation. You may be helped by a generous and intelligent business lady to increase your income and practical abilities. Expect delaying some plans and petty changes in your career. In your love life you have a difficult choice to make but you can't hide away from it, or perhaps it is a partnership where one will have to extend the olive branch first. You are experiencing a new beginning and a new relationship in your closest of relationships.

Sagittarius (22nd November - 21st December)

With all the hopes and optimism you have yet you feel you are using your every inch of strength and so you retreat and take a step back. Your finances are not very good in your view and may cause you sleepless nights and guilt trips, but all will be well as you still manage to refrain from disaster. You are taking more responsibilities in your career now and may expect a promotion or recognition for your efforts. You are stuck in the past memories that may not be worth keeping and best to forget and in your love life you are so warm, compassionate and one who gives good advice.

Capricorn (22nd December - 19th January)

The inner you feel the weakness within, fear of life and seems like you cannot translate your feelings into action. However a new door opens and if you fight the restrictions imposed onto you whether mentally or physically the world will be your oyster. You will be letting go of situations and not trying to control, such as the lack of public recognition and delayed happy news at work. Expect delays in communications or misunderstandings in your closest relationships too, however your faith to love is renewed again.

Aquarius (20th January - 18th February)

You look to be more settled in your home life and think of ways you can revive your surroundings. There's more to achieve from your finances but you feel the depression so let new interests come in. Overall you are willing to take any risks as you are carefree and would be a good time to venture into something new, even though there's a sense that something is missing or you've gone over the top. You will leave a situation which has been significant in your love life and will want to build something more fulfilling also you will be righting all wrongs to re-balance your closest connections.

Pisces (19th February - 20th March)

With the discord and strife you feel like you want to go into battle but you must understand that the past is gone and must carry on. You will need to look further into your finances or ask around for ways you can have more advancement. You may refrain yourself to commitment in your career this month as it seems like no one is working as a team with you, maybe false promises are at work. Wow how amazing is your love life? Where it feels like unconditional love and a sense of a new beginning, could give you the feeling you were meant to be. So plan your holiday with your lover and at home with your closest relationships you've claimed their recognition and approval.
