Tools & Methodology to convert ECM systems to IBM

Softech & Associates, Inc.
ECM Data Migration Toolbox

Technology Description

From time to time, organizations may have the need to migrate non-IBM enterprise content management (ECM) systems, including proprietary systems, to the IBM FileNet P8 system. This could be a result of mergers or acquisitions, cost-savings decisions, or vendors' supportability and viability. Although similar in concept and functionality, each vendor's document management system is uniquely designed and somewhat proprietary. Migration of data from one ECM to another requires in-depth technical knowledge of both systems, tools, methodology, and experience. Having experience with both the source and destination systems is critical to the success of conversion projects.

Softech's ECM Data Migration Toolbox and conversion services allow customers to migrate from any source to any destination system, such as FileNet P8. This includes migrating documents, annotations, metadata, media (optical, tape, etc.) and database information to the new environment. Customers' IT staff will reduce costs when partnering with Softech to perform all or part of the migration using Softech's proven tools and methodology through consulting and mentoring.

Features & Benefits

- Export data from any ECM optical media directly.
- Extract and convert images from many ECM dataset and optical media dump.
- Link files to locator and index databases.
- Export and import annotations.
- Data import to IBM FileNet Image Manager and IBM FileNet Content Manager.
- Conversion reports and audit trails for data reconciliation.

Value Proposition

Softech's ECM Data Migration Toolbox allows customers who have non-IBM ECM systems to migrate documents, annotations, and metadata to FileNet P8. Softech can assist IBM Content Manager customers in consolidating into IBM FileNet P8 system to reduce federation overhead. For customers
