

JIL Information Technology Limited

Enabling long standing partnerships @ JILIT

JIL Information Technology Limited (JILIT) is the IT arm of the Rs. 3500 crore Jaypee Group. One of the leading infrastructural and industrial conglomerates of India, Jaypee Group has maintained its leading position in each of its diverse lines of business: Engineering and Construction, Cement, Private Hydropower, Hospitality, Real Estate Development, Tourism, Education and Information Technology.

Client Profile

As the IT arm of a company as diversified as Jaypee Group, JILIT specializes in providing services in the areas of Software Development and Consultancy, Networking and Communication, Content Development, Learning Solutions and Multimedia Services.

Task

To generate reports and release IT documents specific to Jaypee Group's various businesses, JILIT used an office productivity suite. Over time, however, this productivity suite posed a challenge: while the creation of IT documents required simple data entry skills, the cost of upgrading and maintaining the suite was exorbitant. They needed an office productivity suite that would cost less to upgrade and maintain and one that would include common editing features that were simple to use. In addition, they wanted this solution from a company that would assure them a long term commitment and a long standing partnership.

Solution

To provide what would be an optimal replacement option for JILIT, IBM proposed Lotus Symphony as a solution. JILIT found user migration to Lotus Symphony to be quick and easy and observed an increased level of user comfort. With this office productivity suite, JILIT saved substantial costs that were not enabling high returns and diverted them to more strategic IT and business initiatives. Based on ODF, Lotus Symphony provided better integration with other applications, both within Jaypee Group as well as their external customers.

Benefits

- User-friendly
- Easy adaptability
- Saves costs

In Lotus Symphony, JILIT found a simple, adaptable, cost saving office productivity suite and a long standing partnership.

