22038 No mapping found for qualified mapping xxx on segment yyy.

Warning: Display and log

System string:

xxx Mapping

yyy Segment name

Explanation: A segment that repeats has been qualified but not mapped.

User Response: Warning message only.

22039 No mapping provided for base node in base map xxx.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx Map name

Explanation: The first mapping for any given Base Map ID must be the mapping for the base node of the hierarchy. The base node of the hierarchy is the node that does not have a parent (Parent Level Code value of blanks).

User Response: Repeat map the HL segment and provide a mapping for the base node.

22040 Generic mapping in base xxx map ID yyy does not exist.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx Base

yyy Map name

Explanation: The hierarchical mapping specified in the message indicates that a generic map should be used (signaled with structure name of &H). However, a generic map with the same (or blank) Base Map ID and Hierarchical Level Code does not exist.

User Response: Create the generic mapping or delete the reference to the generic mapping.

22041 Structure xxx associated with segment yyy in standard zzz is not defined in target application data format nnn.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx* Structure name

yyy* Segment name

zzz* Standard name

nnn* Application data format

Explanation: The indicated structure does not exist in the application data format. The map is associated with a standard that was generated from the application data format. This association is indicated by an envelope type of 'F' in the standard and a standard description equal to the name of the application data format. The description for a segment within this standard must contain the name of the structure within the application data format that is associated with the segment.

Response: Either the envelope must be changed from 'F' or the segment description for the segment must be updated to have a valid structure name.

22042 Field xxx associated with data element yyy in segment zzz in standard nnn is not defined in target application data format ppp.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx* Field name

yyy* Data element name

zzz* Segment name

nnn* Standard name

ppp* Application data format

Explanation: The indicated field does not exist in the application data format. The map is associated with a standard that was generated from the application data format. This association is indicated by an envelope type of 'F' in the standard and a standard description equal to the name of the application data format. The description for a data element within this standard must contain the name of the field within the application data format that is associated with the data element.

User Response: Either the envelope must be changed from 'F' or the description for the data element must be updated to have a valid field name.

22043 Field xxx associated with data element yyy in segment zzz in standard nnn does not have the same length or data type as the field in target application data format ppp.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx Field name

yyy Data element name

zzz Segment name

nnn Standard name

ppp Application data format

Explanation: The type or length of the field in the standard is not the same as the type or length of the field in the target application data format. The map is associated with a standard that was generated from the application data format. This association is indicated by an envelope type of 'F' in the standard and a standard description equal to the name of the application data format. The description for a data element within this standard contains the name of the field within the application data format that is associated with the data element.

User Response: To eliminate the error, either the association between the standard and the application data format must be broken by changing the standard envelope type from 'F', or definitions of the fields must be made consistent.

22044 SAMEAS value of xxx used in data element yyy does not identify a data element in segment zzz.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx Data element name

yyy Data element name

zzz Segment name

Explanation: The SAMEAS value must identify a data element that is in the current segment.

User Response: The value is specified as a sequence number, and therefore to use the same mapping as the first data element in the segment you should specify &SAMEAS 1.

22045 Data element xxx in segment yyy mixes SAMEAS with other mappings.

Error: Display and log

System string:

xxx Data element name

yyy Segment name

Explanation: The SAMEAS value indicates that you want the current data element to have the same mapping as some other data element, and therefore other mapping instructions are not allowed.

User Response: Use an alternate data element.
