Time to simplify?

No software we know streamlines business functions like SAP® R/3.™ Especially when you team it with DB2.® From manufacturing to human resources to financials, R/3 combines tight integration with high availability. And what R/3 does at the applications level, DB2 does at the database level because the same code base runs natively on Windows NT,® UNIX,® OS/400,® OS/390™ and others. With more commonality across business units and platforms, there's less to go wrong, more to go right, and a better return on information all around.
