The real difference is how you leverage cloud technology to change your business

- Adjust your processes to fit your new technologies and business model
- Provide an platform for rapid innovation
- Solve for data, integration and security across your hybrid IT environment for a digital business without borders

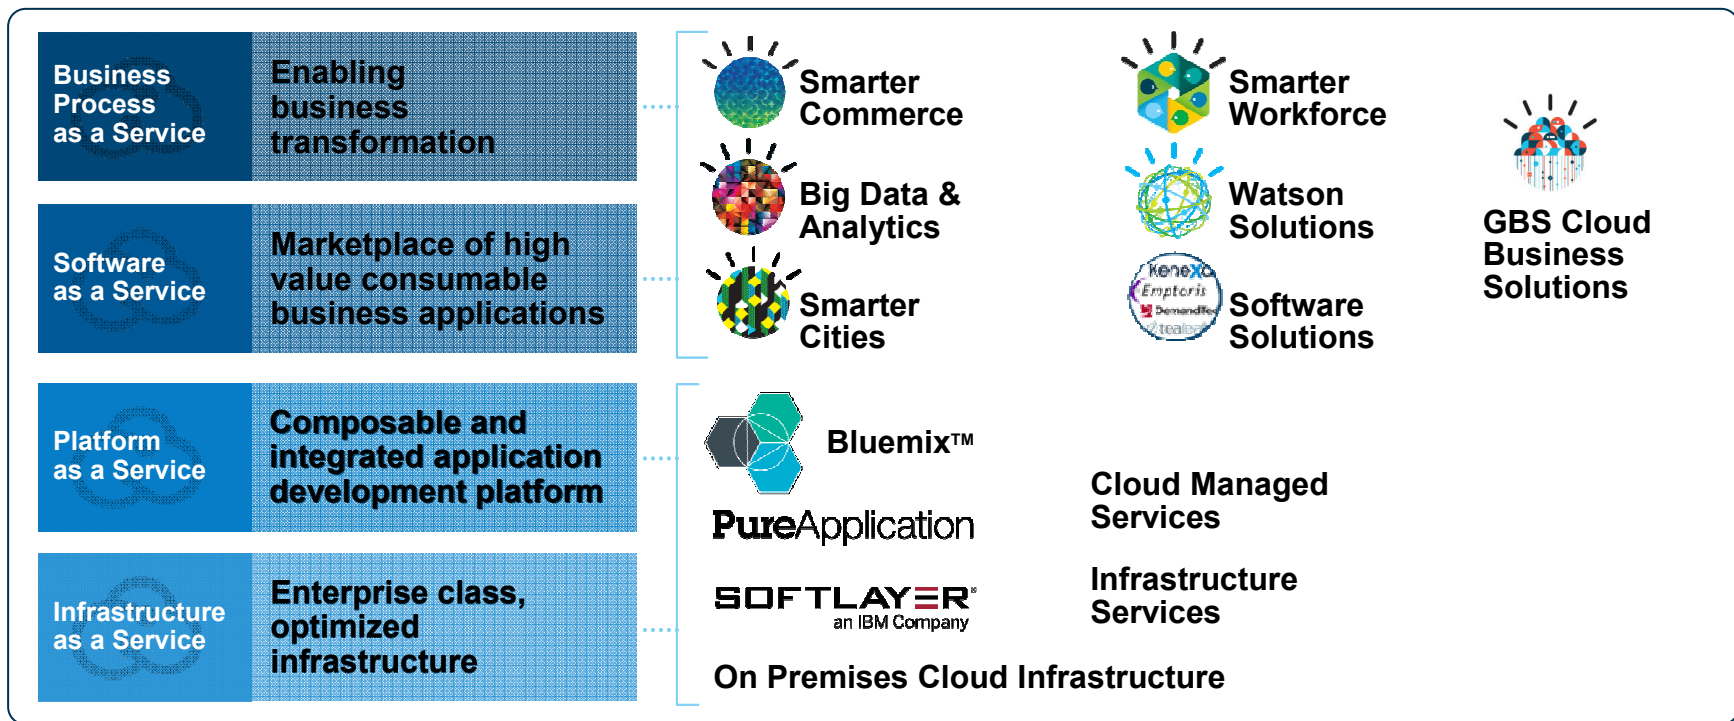

“40% of IT-led cloud projects start with a lift and shift mentality. Less than 20% survive that mistake. You have to design for cloud and do new things or the old things will leave you wanting.”

Daryl Plummer, Gartner
