FOR SALE, that fine property in the suburb St. Mary, known heretofore under the name of RILLEAUX COTTON PRESS, fronting on Tchoupitoulas, Poydras and Magazine streets. There are on the premises, capacious warehouses substantially built of bricks; and should the purchaser prefer a new distribution of said property, a vast quantity of good timber from the present buildings could be employed in new buildings. The yards, entrances, and passages, are all paved with round stone.

The situation of this property, in the centre of the most flourishing part of the city, deserves the attention of persons making a study of localities. Placed by the steamboat landing at the point of rendezvous of all the States, whose interest it is to be our tributaries, it affords in that respect advantages of position rendered scarce by the increase of business, and the immense inland connections of this city. The proximity of the river, the improved state of the pavement to Poydras st. affording to it in all seasons an activity denied to others by insurmountable difficulties in our municipal improvements, render this property a most eligible situation for the receiving or expedition of the vast quantity of produce coming to this city—and if entering the same branch of business does not benefit all concerned, a new destination of the premises would contribute to the improvement of this part of the city, already adorned by the splendid buildings of the Canal and Banking Company, in its immediate vicinity.

This property will be sold according to a plan made by L. Bringier, which will be exposed at the Exchange on Monday the 2d of April, if not sold previously at private sale.

For further information respecting terms and delivery, apply on the premises or at Hewlett & Raspilier's auction office, St. Louis st.

Wm. Fadeuilhe, in consequence of long experience in his line of business, carried on in Paris, and for several years in Washington city, solicits the patronage of the ladies and gentlemen of New Orleans, and its vicinity, who might wish to have curtains and draperies made up, as well as carpets, sophas, chairs, rockers, together with all work belonging to the upholsterers line.

Persons residing in the country, who might stand in need of hair or moss mattresses, feather beds, or any article in the trade, will please call at the above establishment, where orders will be executed on most liberal terms. He hopes that public indulgence will be extended towards him, the more so, as the disappointments of last year were entirely beyond his control—the house not having been finished before the season was over. He hopes that public patronage will recompense him for his trouble, which he may incur in the zealous discharge of his duties. He hopes that those whom he had invited that his house would have been opened on the 1st of March, will excuse him for a none compliance with his promise; the house then being unfit for reception.
